

FACTS

WHAT DOES FIRST SOURCE FEDERAL CREDIT UNION DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and income.
- Account balances and payment history.
- Credit history and employment information.

How?

All financial companies need to share members' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their members' personal information; the reasons First Source Federal Credit Union chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does First Source Federal Credit Union share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes- such as to process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus	Yes	No
For our marketing purposes- to offer our products and services to you	Yes	No
For joint marketing with other financial companies	Yes	No
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes- information about your transaction and experiences	Yes	Yes
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes- information about your creditworthiness	No	We don't share
For our affiliates to market to you	Yes	Yes
For nonaffiliates to market to you	No	We don't share

Questions?

Call 315-735-8571 or 800-735-8571 or go to www.fsource.org

Who we are
Who is providing this notice	First Source Federal Credit Union
What we do
How does First Source Federal Credit Union protect my personal information?	To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.
How does First Source Federal Credit Union collect my personal information?	We collect your personal information, for example, when you - Open an account or apply for a loan. - Pay your bills or provide your employment information or employment history. - Provide your driver's license. We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.
Why can't I limit all sharing?	Federal law gives you the right to limit only - Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes-information about your creditworthiness. - Affiliates from using your information to market to you. - Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you. State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
Definitions
Affiliates	Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies. - First Source Insurance Services, LLC
Nonaffiliates	Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and non-financial companies. - We do not share information with our nonaffiliates so they can market to you.
Joint marketing	A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you. - Insurance companies. - Direct Marketing companies.
Other important information	